"I believe money is a tool: a resource to steward. My passion is to help clients use their financial resources to make positive impacts in their lives, their communities, and the world."

Andrew joined Bridgeworth in 2020, bringing to the team over 20 years of leadership and management experience gained through his extensive military career. His passion for helping clients navigate the complexities of their finances and wealth led him to Bridgeworth.

As the Managing Director of our Huntsville office, Andrew works with the leadership team on firm-wide initiatives, providing additional continuity between our two locations and ensuring our team is empowered to grow alongside the cities we reside. Additionally, as an Associate Advisor, Andrew is involved in client meeting preparation, data gathering, and follow-up actions to help keep clients on track to meet their financial goals.

Andrew and his wife, Leigh, have three teenagers and are active members of Summit Crossing Community Church in Madison, AL. When not at work, he can be found on the mats practicing Brazilian Jiu-Jitsu and Muay Thai.
