Having a financial plan is the first step to having greater peace of mind.

As you know, it is always better to catch a problem early.

It has taken you an enormous amount of time, commitment, and delayed gratification to get to where you are today. While college friends were building their careers for a decade, you were completing your internships and residency training.

To ensure that you and your family get the maximum benefit for all of your hard work, you need a very strategic, tailored, and goal-oriented financial plan. One that takes into account any remaining student loans and puts you on a path toward financial security.

Bridgeworth's financial planning process is called One-Size-Fits-None™ because we believe strongly that your financial plan should fit you and no one else. It begins with a blank sheet of paper and a conversation about your specific goals, and that conversation between you and your Bridgeworth advisor will continue far into the future.

Giving all of your attention and energy to others is work that does not keep regular hours, and we know that free time is difficult for you to find. Understanding your limited availability, your advisor will work with your schedule.

Carve out an hour to speak with a Bridgeworth advisor and we'll help you create a custom-tailored, One-Size-Fits-None™ plan just for you. The clarity we provide comes with no judgment and zero pressure. It is too easy to let years go by without getting a solid financial plan in place for your financial future.

DECIDE TO OWN YOUR FINANCIAL FUTURE

Everyone has a financial plan, whether it has been carefully and thoughtfully planned out, or it is just happening by accident. Deciding to own and be intentional about your financial future is the first step to having greater peace of mind. Once you make that decision, we can help you get on the path toward making your goals a reality.

ONE-SIZE-FITS-NONE™

You are the only “you” there is. Your financial plan has to be as unique as your fingerprint.

START AN ONGOING CONVERSATION

Even the most high-achieving among us needs a good sounding board. Having someone to really listen to you and ask the right questions can help bring your financial goals into sharper focus.

We realize that revealing your entire financial life to another person is not something you do every day, so it is reassuring to know that the guidance and clarity your Bridgeworth advisor provides comes with zero judgment and zero pressure. And, you can be confident in the fact that your advisor is bound ethically to act solely in your best interest.

As the conversation continues, you will make all of your financial decisions. Our role as your financial advisor is to keep you focused and informed on the choices available to you so that you understand how every financial choice you make impacts your goals.

FINANCIAL PERSONAL TRAINERS

To put it plainly, our role is to listen to you to understand what you want your future to look like, and then, coach you all the way there. In fact, that is the best way to think about our role. We are personal trainers who encourage and coach you into a better financial future.
